Chapter 13: Five for Roughing

Author Note: This chapter is written from Noah's perspective.

"There. We're both clean," he said. "Now… on your knees, jock! Show me how much you want me," he continued, his voice deeper and more intense.

"Hmm… how can I do that…" I thought out loud. "Oh, I know," I continued, slowly dropping to my knees. I leaned in and started to softly kiss the tip of his cock, just like I was craving.

"That's it? I thought you wanted it more than that," he teased.

"Oh, this is just the pre-game warm up… I'm just getting started," I teased him right back. I kept going for a while before I shifted from kissing his cock to licking it. I started just around the tip for a while before I started to lick more of his shaft.

While my lips were around the tip, he said in a deep voice, "Deeper. Swallow it all," as he thrusted himself into my mouth and down my throat. Deep moans of pleasure leaked from his mouth. It caught me off guard at first – I choked a bit but eventually got used to the feeling.

"Good boy… Take that cock," he moaned. Every muscle in my body shook with anticipation after seeing him be this controlling. Little did he know… that's exactly what I wanted. I continued sucking his cock, just like he did to me.

"Oh my, you're good at this – have you… done this before?" he asked, his voice shaking in pleasure. I wondered if he wanted to know the real answer, but instead of giving it to him, I played along.

I stopped and quickly answered, "Does it feel like I have, master?"

"That did not need an answer. You're just my sex toy. Don't talk, just keep sucking." he said.

Damn. I thought. That gave me the same tingles I felt when he called me a good boy. I took his cue and ran with it, instantly going back to sucking his throbbing cock. I dragged my tongue around the head, which made it pulse in my mouth even more. I occasionally took it all in the back of my throat. He would let out a deep moan every time, which told me he liked it as much as I did.

"Now it's my turn to have some fun…" he said. He swept me off the ground quickly and forced his lips onto mine. I closed my eyes, threw my arms around his neck, and let the feeling of him kissing me take over my body. I felt him moving, but I didn't care where he was going. I trusted him more than ever. As it turns out, he walked over to the other side of the room and threw me against one of the banks of lockers. The empty thud of the metal as my body crashed into it resonated throughout the room. The initial shock of the cold temperature only made it feel better. I let out a small whimper of pretend pain coupled with erotic submission. "Hands on the locker. Bend over. Don't you dare move until I'm done with you," he barked at me.

"Y—yes, master," I answered, voice shaking in pretend fear. I obediently grasped the top edge of the locker and bent over, opening my hole and putting it on display for him, just waiting for him to use it.

“Don’t think I didn’t see how rough you played today. You’ve earned a major penalty. Time for you to serve it.”
“I hope it takes longer than five minutes,” I playfully responded, embracing the scene as it unfolded.
“It’s going to last a lot longer than that… now, let’s get that beautiful hole of yours ready, shall we?” he asked. I dared not say anything. I simply stayed put like the good little submissive boy I loved to be for him. His tongue slowly graced my hole, sending even more tingles throughout my body. This time, they were different. They were erotic, not rewarding. They were even better.
“C—can I… show you how good I’m feeling, master?” I asked quickly, my voice still filled with the same fake sense of fear.
“Yes, you can, my little jock boy. I want you to show me exactly how good I’m making you feel,” he said, instantly returning to licking my hole.
Now that I had his permission – the permission I so desperately wanted – I started quietly moaning. Every time his tongue touched my hole, every time he slightly thrusted it inside of me. a new, uncontrollable – almost automatic – moan leaked from my mouth.
“That’s enough of that,” he murmured a few minutes later. “Now for the real fun.” I stayed perfectly still. I looked over my shoulder to see what he was doing, and I saw him get the bottle of lube I had in my bag and open it. He made sure to make a spectacle of pouring it. He lifted the bottle high enough, so it was in my field of vision and made sure to make a long stream appear from the top. Once his fingers were nice and slick, he put one inside me. “Let’s get you all wet on the inside for me…” he said, his face sporting an almost devilish grin. I felt my hole expand as he entered, and I let out a louder, deeper, more erotic moan, telling him that it felt much better. He did it twice more, with two fingers, making sure I was all lubed up. He put more on the outside of my hole and some on his cock. He was ready. I was ready. And I couldn’t wait any longer.

“Beg for it, jock,” he barked, voice shockingly loud and sharp.
“Please…” I answered quietly, voice even shakier.
“You’ll have to do better than that if you want me to fuck you.”
“Please… I can’t wait any longer… Please fuck me – use my ass like the little sex toy I am. Please?” I asked.
“That’s it… good boy,” he said softly. “I suppose you’ve earned it.”
For some reason, hearing him say that gave me a sense of accomplishment… and that feeling was one I loved. He slowly stroked his cock as I waited in anticipation for him to put it in. My hole expanded once again – but much more this time – to allow his thick cock in. “Fuck,” I moaned slowly, deeply, all the shakiness in my voice disappearing as it first entered. He paused for a second before starting to move in and out. We went on for a while, his thrusts slow and methodical, his hands gripping my sides like I was in a vice. Suddenly, he sped up and started adding more force into his thrusts. As my chest and cock slammed into the locker door, I moaned even louder, even deeper, much more often. I liked the pain of being slammed into the metal as I felt the pleasure of being fucked. He must have noticed, because in my eternal bliss, I heard him scowl, “You like the rough stuff, don’t you? You like it when I use you” from behind me, laughing slightly as he finished. Before I could even think of an answer, he quickly pulled back. The absence of his cock in my ass forced a quiet whine full of genuine sadness and desire from my mouth. I suddenly felt a hot splash across my back as he moaned intensely. I liked the feeling of his warm load dripping down my spine and over my hole. I liked it so much, it gave me goosebumps.

“Stay,” he commanded. I didn’t move. I didn’t have the time – or the strength – to move even if I wanted to. He instantly put it back in, but this time was different. He wasn’t going all the way in, only a little, and down.
“Mm…” I moaned, voice fluttering from the intense pleasure. I knew that feeling – he hit it again.
“There it is,” he murmured, voice full of satisfaction. “Do you know what that bundle of nerves is, Noah? I do – I can feel your prostate react every time I hit it. It feels good – damn good – like pure pleasure and pure hell at the same time, doesn’t it?” he asked. He was right, but I couldn’t answer. My body was too busy trying to keep track of all the pleasure, not to mention the deep, aching pressure that was building up in my gut. Every thrust added to it. It felt so good, but at the same time it made me feel like my knees were going to give out, leaving me on the floor collapsed in a pool of pleasure. “Answer me, jock!” he barked, hitting that spot again with his usual clinical precision.
“Y—yes, master,” I forced myself to whimper between moans. I couldn’t feel the boundary between pleasure and pressure anymore. It all just seemed to combine into one intense feeling.

“I can use it to make you… just explode. It’s a simple biological response, really, and I love abusing it,” he whispered. It didn’t feel simple to me – it felt much more complicated. “Do you even know what’s going on inside that tiny head of yours, Noah?” He chuckled deeply. “Of course you don’t. You’re just a dumb jock.”
My body forced out a series of deep moans, laced in both the intense pleasure and the mounting pressure I was feeling. “Well, let me educate you,” he said, his voice dropping into a deep, agonizing, yet pleasurably erotic growl. “Your brain’s a complete chemical disaster right now – right where I want it. Oxytocin and vasopressin,” he started, slamming himself into me as he said each name. I let out a small yelp as he continued. “The bonding hormones, both forcing you feel that desperate need to…” He took a deep breath. “Submit to me. It’s hardwired into your biology, Noah. You couldn’t fight it – my control – even if you wanted to.” I let out another yelp, bigger, more intense this time. His rhythm and movements became more aggressive.
“Dopamine,” he said, voice dropping even more as he forced himself deeper into my special spot. “The pleasure hormone, tricking you into thinking that being used, being slammed into a locker – is a reward, as if it’s the only thing in your life that matters.” My insides were vibrating.

The pressure boiling up inside me. He was right – this was a reward, and it was the only thing that mattered to me.
"And that pressure – the pressure making you feel like you're about to shatter? That's cortisol," he whispered, plunging into the now overly sensitive bundle of nerves he'd been exploiting. He laughed, sounding almost maniacally satisfied as he felt all this brain-chemistry make every single muscle in my body tense, especially my hole. My voice reduced to a short, intense whimpering moan as the pressure continued to build – just as he predicted.
"Look at you…" he murmured. He laughed in that same maniacal tone as he continued to crash into me. "The big, tough, captain of the hockey team, just crumbling on my cock because I know exactly where to touch you – exactly which of your buttons to push. The pressure's too much, isn't it? You're going to cum for me, aren't you? The chemistry in that tiny brain of yours says you don't have a choice."
He… was right. I couldn't stand the pressure any longer. I was ready to explode like a volcano.

"I… I can't hold it anymore, master. Please, let me cum," I screamed, body and voice shaking intensely.
"Fine. I guess you've earned it," he said, giving one last deep thrust into me, pushing me even further into the locker.
That thrust pushed me over the edge. My body filled with ecstasy as I finally let the pressure go. I started whining uncontrollably as I exploded all over the locker in front of me, some of it splashing back and sticking to my stomach and chest. "Fuck… that was…" I started to say, gasping for air. I couldn't find the word. For some reason, the ruthless fucking, the mess of hormones fried my brain. "Nice. Intense, but nice," I said, voice shaky. I felt hot. I was sweating and out of breath from the intense orgasm. "Just how I like it," I finished after taking a few breaths. "I can barely feel my legs…"
"Oh, you're not done yet, my little sex toy. Get on the bench. On your back, legs open," he barked. I obeyed before my brain caught up with how tired I was. The narrow bench pressed into my spine, sending another shock of cold throughout my body. I lay there, fully in the open, waiting for what was going to happen next. I stared into Cameron's eyes. He didn't look like his normal quiet, nerdy self anymore. He looked like he was about to perform an experiment. A very intimate experiment. Somehow, I knew I was his not-so-reluctant subject.

"There. You've had your release. Now your body is in a refractory period. Do you know what that means, Noah?" he asked softly. I quickly shook my head – Maybe it was just my brain being scrambled from the ruthless fucking and the whirling hormone high I was on, but I had absolutely no idea what half the words in that sentence meant. "It means prolactin is taking over, making you much more sensitive for what I'm about to do to you," he said, his fingers just barely brushing across the tip of my cock. My body jumped as a sharp shock radiated through it. "See that?" he said sharply, his face sporting an almost evil grin. "Every second, every touch will be magnified. Let's see just how much you can handle before you break," he whispered.

“Master… please,” I said, gasping for air. “I’m… tired.”
“Then, this should be fun for the both of us.”
He took hold of my cock, his grip not tight or rough, yet it felt like it was. With a finger from his other hand, he started tracing around the head of my cock. Because I just came, the feeling wasn’t good – it was overwhelming, almost painful, yet… amazing at the same time.
My eyes closed out of instinct. My back arched. My toes curled and my heels pressed into the bench. He started to slowly stroke my cock. “C—Cam—eron—” I managed to say, slow and broken.
“Hey – eyes on me, jock boy,” he ordered. I forced my eyes open, staring at his face as he watched mine for any little twitch. “I’m in control. Not you. Your body wants to shut down, but I’m not letting it. I’m forcing it to stay awake.” A few minutes later, he tightened his grip and sped up his strokes. The pressure returned, instantly twice as intense and much sharper than it was before. “Interesting response… It’s quite contradictory. You’re showing some signs of discomfort, but your voice tells me quite the opposite. You’re loving this, aren’t you?”

“I—I can’t… Stop—Please! I’m going to… Mm… I’m going to—" I screamed.
“Ah-ah-ah,” he mocked. “Not yet. Just take it. Show me how well you break.” His rhythm was perfect, methodical even. Seconds later, I couldn’t help it anymore – I burst into an ugly whimpering sob, tears streaming, my body shaking with exhaustion. “There it is…” he bellowed over my crying. “I finally broke you! I’m surprised you lasted this long… Let’s see how much pressure I’ve built up,” he said, stroking me even harder, even faster.
I exploded again, cum shooting from my dick like it never has before. It didn’t feel like a normal orgasm. It was more like an uncontrollably violent shock moving all through my body. “Fuck!” I managed to scream out in pleasure, even though it felt more like pain. As I finally stopped whimpering, my body started trembling uncontrollably. Cam’s hand met my chest, laying there and following my labored breaths. He didn’t say anything at first. He just watched the way my chest quickly and shakily rose and fell, feeling it vibrate as my heart pounded through it. His eyes softened to the observantly nerdy sparkle I’ve come to love. “Good boy,” he whispered. For once, there was no edge. No sharpness. No control. Just love, and the trust I placed in him coming right back at me.

He gently turned me on my side, pulling my sweaty, exhaustingly shaking body against him. He wrapped his arms tightly around me, holding me as I started coming down from my hormone high. We lay there on the narrow bench, completely silent, just cuddling tightly together from head to toe. “Just breathe, Noah,” he whispered. “It’s okay, I’ve got you.” I focused on his calm heartbeat, his deep breaths on my neck, and his gentle touch rubbing my belly and stroking my hair. He whispered sweet nothings in my ear to calm me, the only other sound coming from the drip of the shower we used in the distant background. The sound of my body being slammed against the lockers rang in my head, though I knew it wasn’t real. He held me, cared for me, until I was finally able to regain control of my body. He got up, giving the back of my neck a soft kiss, and I flopped on my back once again. My arms hit the floor like they were limp noodles, my breathing still heavy, my heart still pounding out of my chest. Sure, he calmed my tremor, but everything else was still excited. The master who just used my brain to break me into a million tiny pieces was gone. Now, he was the person who was there for me no matter what, and who knew exactly how to put those pieces together as if I was his jigsaw puzzle.

"I've got something else I want to do with you," he said, his voice gaining the slightest bit of authority. "Flip over for me."
I stared at him for a few seconds, blinking through the overwhelming haze, before I managed to roll onto to my stomach. "Oh, really? Am I going to like it?" I asked him, my voice still small, my body still breathless. My body embraced the now warm, hard surface of the bench as I started to sink into it.
"It'll make you feel good," he said.
"In that case," I said softly, still shifting to get as comfortable as possible given the situation, "do what you want with me."
"Good," he said gingerly. A faint click came from behind me as something cold spilled across my back. I shivered a bit at the coldness and asked, "That's cold – what is it?"
"Just… oil." I was about to ask him more questions about what he was doing, but as soon as his hands started to spread the oil across my back, my questions answered themselves. It felt nice once the oil warmed, helped by both of our bodies. "You're so tense from your game. Your muscles are all tight and you've got a few decent knots," he continued. "Plus, after our shenanigans, you deserve to feel special."
His hands began putting pressure on my shoulders. They opened as I sank more into the bench. After the chaos that we just went through, I never expected to feel this relaxed… this safe. "That feels nice… since when do you know how to give a massage? You hate biology," I asked.
"True, but just because I don't like it doesn't mean I don't know it. Did I not just prove that?"
"What's that supposed to mean?"
"I know enough about muscle groups and nerve responses to give you one hell of a massage. I know all the pressure points that I can use to make you feel good – if you're cooperative, that is. Take this one, for example," he said as he slowly moved his hands with unmistakable precision across my shoulder. If I press here, it should feel good," he said as he started slowly pressing into me.
"Oh," I moaned. "You're right – that feels wonderful," I said as I melted into the bench. "Please… keep going."

He laughed slightly. "Don't confuse my restraint for inability. Cooperate and submit to me, and everything will be fine. If you don't… I can make you regret it," he said as he moved his hands. "Just a couple centimeters difference is all it takes…" he finished, driving his fingers into my skin, right on top of my spine.

“Fuck, that hurts!” I screamed. Every muscle in my body became rigid, as if I couldn’t move them. My fists balled out of instinct, sending even more pain throughout my body. I could have told him to stop – I could have used the safe word. I thought about it in the moment. But there was something about the precision he had, the control he asserted over me that I liked, despite how painful it was. The pain was much more than anything we did so far, but surprisingly… I liked it. I wanted to stay under his control. Instead of ending the situation, I went a different route. “I’ll cooperate,” I said as I gasped with pain, “I promise, I’m yours.” His touch immediately became lighter, like silk. His hands soothed the area he just used to punish me. “Good boy,” he said lightly. I started breathing shakily. “It’s okay, I’ve got you,” he said gently, noticing the state of my body. Wow, I thought. He noticed I was uncomfortable… and he stopped.

After quite a few more shaky breaths and a fair bit of whimpering, the pain was still there, but it wasn’t as intense. Once my breathing went back to normal and my body released all the tension it held, he returned to working the areas that made me just melt instead of the ones that made me tighten up. I don’t think I’ll ever forget that feeling. “Think of that as your punishment for earlier. Now, I’d much rather not repeat that. You can trust me to be gentle – I’ll always be gentle with you – but just remember… I don’t have to be.”
“Why put so much of effort into it? What’s in it for you?”
“Isn’t it obvious by now? Look back through our relationship so far. Everything we’ve done… It’s quite clear that the only biology I find remotely interesting is yours, and that I’ll take any chance I get to play with it… any part of it.”
“I’ll have to remember that for the future. I’ve got some ideas where that’ll come in handy.”
“Interesting,” he said with a heightened tone of voice. “Care to share?”
“Not quite yet, I’m still… working things out, among other things.”

He worked on every part of my back, gently and methodically working out all the tight areas and all the knots. He was right – this felt incredible, and I couldn’t deny that it made me feel extra special. Especially knowing that if I did anything he didn’t like, he could change how I felt so suddenly, so extremely. I was in another state of plain ecstasy, when he suddenly stopped.
“What’s wrong?” I asked.
“This knot’s a bit too deep…” he said, voice sharp. This time, the sharpness was genuine concern rather than ruthless control or sadistic punishment.
“Does that mean you can’t get it?”
“No, I can get it,” he replied hesitantly. “But…” he paused.
“But what?”
“I need to use a lot more pressure to get that deep, and for a longer stretch. It’s in a not-so-comfortable spot, so it’s going to hurt – a lot. But if it works, it’ll make you feel better.”
“That’s fine, just go for it.” He didn’t move at all. “Why aren’t you doing anything?” I asked him after a few seconds.

“I told you I’d make you hurt if you weren’t cooperating with me – but you’ve been nothing but cooperative. If you want me to get it, I need you to know this isn’t that. I’m not choosing to hurt you, and I’m not punishing you either.”
I smiled – he couldn’t see it, but something inside me knows he felt it. “Thanks for making that clear – I understand. Just get it; you have my permission.”
“Alright…” he said hesitantly. “If you want me to stop, just tell me.”

At first, it felt the same – a warm, gentle touch as his hands moved into place, followed by bunch of nice-feeling pressure. Then the pain came, and it was much more than I expected. “Aah!” I screamed.
“I’m sorry,” he said, worried about the amount of pain I was in. “Deep breaths, Noah. It’s already loosening up. It shouldn’t be much longer.”
I forced myself to take some slow, deep breaths. Somehow, they sort of helped with the pain. After what felt like an eternity, he stopped. The pressure was gone, but the pain still radiated through my body.
“I thought you said it would make me feel better if it worked,” I angrily told him, sitting up and straddling the bench. “It still hurts.”
“It will for a bit,” he said. “Then it should fade, and you’ll feel the difference.”
“Okay, we’ll see…” I said, unconvinced by his words. “Now… how much do I owe you for the service you gave me?” I asked him, almost inviting him to fuck me one more time.
He stared into my eyes, smiled, and said, “Just a few minutes of making out.”
“Is that all? You’re worth much more than that, but I think I can manage,” I said.

“But first, I want my grade… How was it this time?”
“The sex was awesome – just like it always is. I don’t know why you were so worried – you took what I said and ran with it in a way that never crossed any lines. I loved the name-calling, the humiliation, the punishments, the forced orgasm – everything. You made me feel absolutely amazing. You’re really embracing your dominance, aren’t you?”
“I guess I am. What about your massage, how was that?”
“I loved it too. I love that you didn’t stop being my master just because your dick wasn’t in me anymore. I like feeling like I still belong to you while you take care of me. Your work made me feel good… for the most part. It even made me feel special. The way you made me submit to you by putting pressure in all the wrong spots… for some reason, I loved that even more, and it made me feel even more special. You’re improving. Another A+ for my perfect student.”
“You… you really mean that?” he asked in a quiet tone, his face sporting a new pink hue.
“I absolutely mean it. You know, you’ve got to learn to take a compliment when I give you one,” I joked with him. “Now, come here, I’ve got to pay you what you’re owed…” I said, seducing him. He leaned in nice and close, I pulled him even closer, and we started kissing. It was slow at first, then it became deeper.

He was still breathless from my complement – just as breathless as I was. I could feel it – it felt like he just poured all that nervously excited energy into the kiss. I kept my eyes glued shut, just enjoying the way his hands – the same hands that just made me scream in absolute agony – softly cupped my face as we melted into each other. He tasted like the water we shared earlier and the oil he just rubbed all over my body. I felt his deep breathing – which slowed with mine, as if we became one person – and fast heartbeat against my skin. I loved all of it. We stayed on the bench for a while, kissing, holding each other, until he suddenly looked at the clock on the wall. "Damn, I have a class in ten minutes!" he said, scrambling to put on his clothes among the chaos on the floor. The master turned into the panicked academic he was at his core – the part of him I loved the most, the teacher late for class. After a rushed apology and one last kiss, he disappeared. I flopped onto the bench and just lay there. Alone. Gasping for air. Heart pounding. Body aching. Wanting, craving much more of him.
