Chapter J – Using the Amenities
Author Note: This chapter is written from Noah's perspective.

I carefully snatched his hand with mine. Both of us slowly got up from the couch, and I brought him to the metro station bedroom, straight into the train car bed – because screw the waiting area, I've waited enough. We stopped at the edge of the mattress, where I gave him a strong push. He fell back, letting out a deep oof as he bounced slightly on the surface. "How about you let me give you some of that top-notch service I promised?" I asked, my voice full of passion.
"I'll never say no to that," he answered, his tone matching mine.
"I can't get to the good stuff with these in the way… mind if I take them off?"
"Good boy, asking for permission, go for it."
"I haven't earned it yet, Master," I said quietly, stepping toward him and positioning myself between his legs.
"And humble too? Maybe you will earn that title you so desperately crave, huh?" His hips shifted as I reached for his waistband, sliding off his pants and underwear in one uninterrupted motion. The tension I'd noticed during his foot play was clear; his cock was pulsing already, just waiting for me to pleasure it.
"What next, Master?" I asked. I already knew the answer; I just wanted the pleasure of hearing him ordering it.
"On your knees, brat! You know what to do," he barked.

Of course, I did exactly as I was told. I quickly dropped to my knees between his legs. The bed was close to the ground, but my body still made a small thud as it hit the shiny white tile floor, sending a dull ache through my knees. I couldn't help but stare at the window behind him. Seeing the open sky and the light it let in made the whole experience feel like we were on display to the rest of the city, despite how we were in a private suite, eight stories up from the ground. I barely felt any of it though – I didn't care about myself right now. I was totally focused on Cameron's body and finishing what I started. The fear of being watched intensified my pleasure. I knew my purpose was to pleasure Cameron, but I couldn't help but feel a small bit for myself; I didn't think he'd mind. I crawled closer to him, shoving my thighs against the side of the bed until my face was right next to his groin. I put a hand on his shirt and pushed him back. He slowly laid back in the bed, his legs flowing over the side of the mattress and onto my shoulders, just letting me do what I wanted with him. I slowly started kissing his lower abdomen, right below his stomach. With nowhere near the precision he had, I moved down to his pubic bone, planting deep pecks all over his body. His cock pulsed even more. I teased him by kissing his inner thighs for a bit before moving down even more. I could tell he thought my next move would be to start kissing and sucking on his cock – which was what I planned to do… eventually. I had one more thing I wanted to do to him before I got there. He had to wait, just like he made me wait. I wanted to tease him even more, just like he teased me. I focused my kisses on his balls. His sharp breath told me everything I needed to know – I surprised him… in a good way.

He didn't say anything, pull his body away, or push me away. That told me he liked it, and he wanted me to keep going. I planted my face in his groin, taking in its clean scent and kissing and licking him more intensely. I started to bring his balls into my mouth and suck on them. He shivered – just like I shivered for him – as my mouth allowed them in. His voice let out a series of quick, loud moans that came from deep inside his chest.

After a few minutes of going to town on everything other than the pulsing cock staring me right in the face, it was about time I gave him the service I promised. I slowly, deliberately licked my way from the bottom of his balls to the tip of his cock. His body shook as my tongue moved along the sensitive skin of his groin, and he let a deep moan escape from his mouth. I kissed the tip, my lips sweet and gentle, which only made it twitch even more. "That's it, jock? That's all you've got?" he barked. "Not really showing me how good you are." I let my mouth fall slightly open before I took him in. It naturally slipped in and slid right to the back of my throat. I didn't even choke up this time – I've gotten used to the feeling of his cock in my throat by now. I liked it. I craved it. "Fuck, jock boy," he moaned. His hand found my hair, gripping it not too tight, but not loose by any sense of the word. My hand drifted to the base of his shaft, mimicking the motion of my head and making sure every inch was covered. He guided my head up and down, shallow and deep, directing my efforts to pleasure him exactly the way he wanted. I forced my way back until just my lips were resting against the tip. I needed a break – albeit a short one – before I plunged right back down, his pubic hair cushioning my nose every time I made it all the way to the bottom.

"Oh yeah, just like that," he moaned deeply, his mouth bearing a subtle grin. "You're a natural cock-sucking slut, aren't you?" he sneered. I didn't answer – mostly because I couldn't say anything with his dick in my mouth, but also because my skill spoke for itself. I didn't need to back it up. I steadily picked up the speed, following his direction while also bobbing my head even more. I used one hand to steady myself, and the other to play more with his balls, making sure to pleasure all the good parts of him like the good boy I was. The tile was still sending a dull ache through my knees, but his expressions of pure, absolute pleasure dulled the feeling. Hearing the sharp, breathless curses escaping from his mouth was the ultimate reward, and I didn't care who saw it. "Fuck, brat, you're ruining me," his voice growled, dropping an entire octave. His breathing turned rough and rugged. I felt the rhythmic twitching of his cock quicken in my mouth. His thighs hardened, cemented in place. He was getting close, and I couldn't wait for the big finish. I changed my angle so I could look up at him, holding his gaze as I plunged myself to the bottom of his member one last time, my pace slowing to a deliberate tease. I heard him whine, agonizingly desperate for release. "Don't stop…" he moaned, his voice carrying a sharp, erotic edge. "Finish. Show me exactly how good of a boy you are."

I pulled away, just for a fraction of a second, so I could respond to his desperate plea for release. My mouth made a slight, comical pop sound as it left the tip. "Yes, Master," I moaned quietly, matching his edge. Right after the words left my mouth, I returned my focus to his groin, every stroke plunging all the way to the bottom. It didn't take much – he'd been right on the edge for a while now. One last stroke was all it took before he exploded. "Oh, fuck!" he screamed. His thick milk spilled into my mouth, most of it pooling under my tongue, some leaking right down my throat. I pulled back one last time. Just as my lips left his tip, some of his load dripped down my face, and I let it. Still on my knees, I stared into his eyes and said, "Did I please you, Master? Have I earned my title?"

"You did, my little play toy, you did so good. You've earned your title… for now…"
"Can I hear it, Master? Please?" I begged.
"Only after you show me you have nothing in your mouth." Following his order, I closed my mouth, whipped my head back, and swallowed the rest of his seed. I opened my mouth for him to inspect, following his direction to move my tongue around so he could check every little pocket of my mouth, making sure I wasn't saving any.
"Good boy," he said slowly.
"Thank you, Master," I said.

"How about we go get pampered? I'm letting someone else take care of you for once," he said, gasping for air.
"Someone… else?" I asked.
"No need to be jealous, brat," he barked. "We're going to the sauna and getting a massage, remember? Or did swallowing everything I gave you scramble your brain?"
"N—No, Master, I remember."
"Good – then clean yourself up. We leave in five," he ordered before pulling up his pants and leaving the room.
I quickly walked over to the bathroom and stood in front of the mirror. I soaked the cloth on the counter with water, the sound of which felt eternally grounding. It meant my service was done… at least for now, and that I could give myself some care. The care Cameron said I deserved. I wiped my face with the freshly moistened, plush cloth. My eyes sparkled in the mirror, the grin on my face piercing through the air. I blotted my face dry before leaving the room and meeting Cameron in the living room. By then, he had turned back into just my boyfriend, waiting patiently for me to join him. He led me down to the spa suite and over to the private saunas. We found one that was free, we both stripped our clothes off and donned towels, and he escorted me inside.

Once the door clicked closed, the control panel on the wall lit up. I set the temperature to a nice and toasty 80 °C – my ideal temperature – and set a one-hour timer. The small, wooden room quickly became moist and hot. The feeling was all too familiar for me, but Cameron was… let's just say, struggling to adapt. I comforted him, and by the time the room reached the set point, he had gotten used to it.
"Wow… it's hot in here," he said.

“Well, duh! It’s a sauna. That’s how it works.”
“Bringing the attitude back, are we?” he snapped.
“I mean, it’s obvious, isn’t it?”
“Okay, but I’ve never done this before. You didn’t need to point it out.”
“Yeah, but I’m a brat, remember – your brat. If I can’t poke a bit of fun at you, I can’t play the role.”
“I guess that’s true… So, what do we do now?”
“We just sit and relax, let the heat take over.”
“That’s… it?”
“That’s it.”

We both sat completely silently in the moist heat until our time was about half over. I had an idea about something else I could do to make him feel good. Something he did to me so many times that made me almost melt. “Hey Cameron,” I said, my voice low with an edge of relaxed pleasure. “Mind if I continue your service? I want to try something.”
“That depends. What are you going to do to me now?”
I sat up, slowly moved closer to him, and crossed my legs into the familiar massage posture from school. When I got myself situated, I finally answered. “I want to try something I learned a while ago from one of my classes. I want to give you a massage.”
“And what’s that going to lead to?”
“Nothing. There’s no sex attached,” I answered. “I just want to make you feel as good as you made me feel.”
“I guess you can do that. Should I—” he mumbled.
“No,” I cut in softly. “You stay there. Just flip over and give me your feet.”
“Are you sure this isn’t going to lead to sex?” He looked at me with his usual hesitant eyes. He blinked slowly a couple of times before he cracked a small smile and chuckled so quietly, I could barely hear it. “Usually when I ask you to flip over, I end up inside you at some point.”
“No. Only feet and legs,” I promised. “I remember last time – I won’t push. I want you to trust me as much as I trust you.”
He started to flip over, letting out a deep breath as he settled into position. With his voice void of any hesitation, he said “Good.”

He lay on the bench with his feet resting on my legs, lazily flexing them at his ankles and toes in a silent tease. Their now steam-softened soles, dewy with light droplets, called to me, and I could barely ignore them. But I saw right through his little test. I didn’t move – I gave him all the control. “I’m ready. Show me what you’ve got,” he finally said.
I took a bottle of oil from the shelf next to me and poured a decent amount over my hands. I massaged the oil into my palms, coming up with a map of what I would do. First, treat the legs to warm him up, then bring him to absolute heaven using his feet. Good plan. “Okay, I’ll start with just your legs,” I told him. I didn’t want to make any movement without telling him first. I didn’t want him to think I was going back on my promise. “Tell me if it’s too much pressure. I can always adjust.” I leaned forward and took his left calf into my hands, my grip gentle but firm. I started moving around his leg, spreading the oil around on his somewhat rough skin. I dropped more oil on the leg and started to move my fingers in deep, slow circles, applying a firm yet careful pressure. “How’s this,” I asked.

“You’re good,” he said, his voice muffled by the towel supporting his head.
I rubbed his leg in large circles, bobbing up and down the areas I could reach. After a while, I switched sides, repeating the same motions.

He started shifting his feet around in that same lazy way he had before. “Too much?” I asked, worried I was hurting him.
“No,” he said softly. “Your pressure’s perfect.”
“Then, what’s wrong?”
“Nothing. What makes you think something’s wrong?”
“They’re flexing. That’s either a sign that I’m hurting you or…”
“Think, jock boy. You’re not hurting me, and you promised…”
The realization hit me. I paused and asked, “You want me to get to your feet, don’t you?”
“Bingo,” he answered with his usual Master contempt.
“That’s quite the way to tell me…” I huffed, though… a devious smirk worked its way onto my mouth.

I followed his cue and slowly slid my hands down to his feet. At first, they twitched at my touch, but they quickly got used to the gliding of my fingers along their plump, pink surface. I leaned back to my previous sitting position and slightly lifted his right leg. My fingers stayed loosely gripping the sole, my thumbs wrapping around to the top. I gently squeezed – I knew the feet could be more sensitive to pressure, and I didn’t want to overdo it – and started moving my fingers out from the midline to the edge. After I got a few strokes in, he said, his voice low, “Could you… get a little tighter?”
“Sure. You’re the client. How’s this?”
“A bit more…” he answered. I adjusted my grip, putting more effort into the squeezing action.
“Mmm, oh yeah… right there,” he moaned, “that’s… perfect.”
As I continued stroking his feet, heavy sighs of relief escaped him. He moaned deeply too; a low sound that told me exactly what I wanted to hear: I was making him feel good. His head sank deeper into the towel supporting it. His hands balled into fists, occasionally tapping the benchtop as I hit the areas that felt the best. I continued stroking the bottom of his foot, listening to the change in the oil’s sound. The steam-warmed skin I worked changed the sound from a virtually silent slickness to a slight, rhythmic squish that drained all the stress from his body, leaving him completely anchored to my lap. I couldn’t help but allow the smirk on my face to grow.

I continued with the bottom of the foot for a while before I paused, started moving my thumbs and squeezing the sides of his foot while moving up and down. That part didn't seem to get any reaction from him – it never really did, but when my classmates would do it to me, it felt like they were giving my feet a big hug. Hopefully, he felt the same way. The last step was to use a few fingers and work the toes. I knew that was his favourite thing to do with my feet, so I made sure to pay extra attention to his. I slowed my hands to a slow crawl. I worked on each toe separately, firmly tucking his foot into my chest as I pulled and rotated each one with precision. I wasn't as precise as he was, but repeating the same motions I made along the side of his feet and catching his sharp breath in as I worked told me it was good enough. It told me he was at my mercy, that I had the tiniest bit of control over him for once.

I worked on his left foot the same way I did his right, and before I knew it, the small timer on the wall buzzed. Our time was over, and I thought it was safe to say we were both satisfied with the experience. Stretching down to Cameron's feet in my lap, I gently kissed them both before we both got up and stepped into the cool, room-temperature hallway, both our bodies reddened from the heat and covered in beads of sweat. It was a feeling I was all too used to, but I didn't think Cam knew what it felt like. He was fanning himself and breathing deeply, trying to cool off. I wondered how I did, but I didn't need to ask. "Noah… that was amazing," he said, voice shaking.
"Naw, I'm not a professional…" I said, nonchalantly dismissing his compliment.
"No, seriously. Where did you learn that? You might need to teach me."
"I took a reflexology class a few terms ago. We covered a bit of everything: shoulders, neck, back, hands, and feet… Three guesses as to which part I made sure to master just for you?"
"I won't need three," he laughed. "It's clear your favourite part of class aligns with one of the best parts of you for me to worship and play with. You're just returning the favour… and feeding my addiction, you know."
"… You'd be right," I said. "If you were serious about learning it, I'll gladly teach you."
"And be my test dummy?"
"Always."
"Good… I could use more play time with you that's not tied to sex. But one thing's still unclear. We weren't together when you took that class. How'd you know—"
"I've seen you staring at my shoes in the hallway and almost drooling at my socks whenever I'd lay on your couch, obviously daydreaming about how my feet would look devoid of any obstacles. I always knew I'd have an opportunity to tease you – to spoil you with it. It was just a matter of time."
"Uh… wow… I thought I was being discreet."
"You? Being discreet?" I laughed. "Far from it, nerd. You've got some learning to do if you thought that was discreet. Now, how about we get to that couple's massage? Let's feel what a real professional can do… together."

“That’s a great idea. We can both use it – especially you after making me feel so good. But… in the future… I’ll have to see what else those magic hands of yours can do.”
“… Yes, Master,” I said as I gave him a teasing nudge.
“Good boy,” he answered. “Let’s go.”

We both put on the white robes that were waiting for us in the change room of our sauna suite. As soon as the plush fabric touched my skin, it soaked up all the moisture from my upper body. It felt soothing, like I was being cuddled by a fluffy dog or a giant, fuzzy teddy bear. We slowly made our way down the bright hallway of the care centre from the sauna area to the massage parlor, our hands tightly woven together. We went for the couple’s massage – a well-deserved reset for the both of us. The therapists worked out every tightness, every knot we had. They somehow worked around us still holding hands in the narrow gap between our tables. We barely said a word over the relaxing ambient sounds of the ocean and rainstorms, which further relaxed us both. By the end of our massage, we both felt like jelly. We headed back to our room, ordered room service and fell asleep together in the living room watching some movies.
